The library has been well patronized by the townspeople during the past year. Books to the number of 3183 have been in circulation, Rev. Wm. B. Hill has continued his generous contribution of books. A start has been made toward having all the worn books rebound.

The library trustees and their terms of office are as follows:

W. W. Colburn	1916
W. B. Hill	1917

Report of School Board.

TO THE SCHOOL DISTRICT OF TEMPLE, N. H.

Your committee submits the following report. Two important events in the past school year were: First; the formation of a supervisory district together with Wilton and New Ipswich and the election of Leonard S. Morrison as superintendent for the district. His work has been highly satisfactory to the school boards of the three towns and we hope that he may continue in charge of our schools.

The addition of music was another important move. We were unable to engage anyone satisfactorily for the spring term, but Miss Mildred Holtham was secured at the opening of the school year in the fall and for the short time in which she has been teaching, the children have made excellent progress.

Of the general condition of the schools your superintendent has written so fully that it is unnecessary for us to add to it.

JACOB KENDALL,
C. E. ROCKWOOD,
Committee.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Wilton, N. H., February 15, 1915.

The School Board, Temple, New Hampshire.

I hereby submit my first annual report as Superintendent of your schools.

The troubles in our schools seem to be due to lack of money for most part. If the teachers seem less efficient than those in the average town, it may be explained by two facts, namely, that teachers of superior ability and adequate training seek fields of labor offering the most attractive remuneration, and secondly, that no teacher can do her best work when she is handicapped by poor and insufficient equipment.

Perhaps, too, we may ascribe the woefully poor attendance to the same condition. I will leave it to the judgment of you all whether it might not be well to consider how we stand financially in our treatment of the schools. Rising prices for board and living expenses necessitate a corresponding raise in salary. Otherwise we must expect our teachers to become less able from year to year. This is no criticism of the teachers employed at present; they are doing valuable work under a considerable handicap. When I entered upon my duties last September, I found that I had $35 for books and supplies for the three schools. This meant that there was barely enough to keep the schools running. The equipment was in deplorable condition. For instance, the large dictionaries are of the edition printed before my birth, and they are in a condition worthy of their great age. The price of the large dictionaries is $10.80 so that item alone would have nearly exhausted my small allowance for books and supplies. The State Program of Studies for Elementary Schools directs that grades 5 to 8 inclusive be supplied with smaller individual dictionaries. These too, are out of the question. Other things lacking are maps, histories both texts and reference, geographies, readers in all the grades, busy work materials for the primary children, drawing supplies, chairs and desks for the teachers and visitors, and nearly everything used in the school room. The amount needed to remedy this situation is about $300 for texts and supplies, and $225 to increase the salaries of the teachers.

Let us examine the last Report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction to the present legislature in order to find out whether we are unduly extravagant in school matters. The average number of weeks of school per annum for the whole state is 34.34. The average cost per pupil for the whole state $31.80. That of Temple for the same year was $27.29. It might be thought that the cities with their wealth might raise this average but city schools always have from 30 to 50 pupils per teacher so they are actually run for a less cost per pupil than the rural schools. That this may be easily seen I have chosen ten small towns with an average school enrollment of 55 pupils and reckoned the cost in these towns. I find that Webster, Washington, Whitefield (town), So. Hampton, Salisbury, Newfields, Mont Vernon, Madbury, Grantham and Mason, the ten towns taken, have an average of 32.63 weeks of school in a year and it costs them $38.09 per pupil to do this in comparison with the $27.29 that Temple spent for that purpose. While anybody who may be serving you as School Board, Superintendent and teachers will do their best, it remains for the District itself to decide whether it desires and can afford first-class schools. If the interests of economy make it necessary to pare expenses very closely and it becomes necessary to get along without this needed equipment or the Superintendent, I will say frankly, I think the $100 contributed to my salary by the district could be used to greater advantage in helping to remedy this bad situation.

Your School Board has done much for the schools and I feel free to say that their labors have every claim for the grateful appreciation of the citizens. I wish to express my gratitude for their hearty cooperation and support. The work done last year in the spring term was clearly evident in the careful grading of the pupils as I found them.

Respectfully submitted,
LEONARD S. MORRISON,
Superintendent.
